

IMPORTANT: JOB SURVEY

The Young Radiologist Section is organizing a short survey on job opportunities in radiology.

The goal is to depict the imbalance between available vacancies and work seeking radiologists. Specific surveys have been sent out to the heads of radiology departments and recently graduated radiologists. If you have received a survey invitation, you can help us out by participating, because every voice is valuable.

A first survey had been sent out in May, however, this survey does not count (due to a distribution error). So please fill out the more recent survey sent in July!

You will receive some reminder e-mails during the following weeks, as we do not know who has already completed the survey (due to the complete anonymity of the survey).

The YRS thanks you for your understanding and participation!
